

Chryset Chokethanakhorn

6209141375

In my viewpoint i think that if the percent of LGBT people that experienced the discrimination in the work place continue to increase I am sure that this will be a bad effect to the economic because we will have less people in the workforce and it would lead to diminished productivity .

Government can help create a campaign to aware people about this problem like pride month so that people will know that discrimination against LGBT is not as much thing to do