

1. How and why was Phil trapped?

He travel to Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, to cover the annual Groundhog Day festivities with Punxsutawney Phil. But on his way out of town, Phil is caught in a giant blizzard, which he failed to predict, and finds himself stuck in small-town hell. Phil wakes in next morning and finds himself repeating the same day over and over again.

2. Is Groundhog Day a religious movie? Explain your answer.

Groundhog Day is a religious movie. The film has a plot relate to Buddhism religion because it has themes of selflessness and rebirth as a reflection of their own spiritual messages. Groundhog Day perfectly illustrates, the continuing cycle of rebirth that Buddhists regard as suffering that humans must try to escape.

3. How would you characterize the phases that Phil goes through? What does he learn as a result of his experience?

He learn that he should to look inside oneself and realize that the only satisfaction in life comes from turning outward and concerning oneself with others rather than concentrating solely on one's own wants and desires.

4. How is Phil's journey related to Existentialism?

Existentialism assumes that people are totally free and thus responsible for all of their decisions. Phil has a freedom to do anything in Groundhog Day. Existentialism is a powerful tool, for both good and evil. In the movie, Phil firstly chooses for bad but finally he chooses for all mankind.

5. What would you do if you were trapped in a "Groundhog Day"?

I will do something exiting that makes my life interesting. But I would not do something that exploits the others. I will do the good thing, be kind and make friend with other but still always happy.

6. What does your answer to the previous question say about your beliefs about the meaning of life?

I think the meaning of life for me is you live in everyday with happiness. Live in your own area with other peoples and exchange happiness together.