

Hamlet

1. The choices are that he would suicide for escaping from suffering but he does not know how his life would be after death, or be alive sadly and does not know how long it would end.
2. His father was assassinated and overthrown by his uncle. Then, the new king was marriage with his mother in the same month. If I were him, I would do something they feeling a shame and repenting of what they did but not killing method certainly because in the end it always led to loss.
3. He decided to revenge them but he finally was more suffering because it causes every his lovers including his life died.
4. He was intelligence, courageous and had conscience. He also hesitated. He was the man of thought and action and causing failure because of it.
5. Yes, I do. He let madness consuming him and other impact to his decision.