4. Why does Simon Schama call The Death of Marat a "beautiful lie"? How is it beautiful? How is it a lie?

- Simon Schama call The Death of Marat a "beautiful lie" because David painted his painting with some false details even though the painting was well painted and beautiful in Neoclassical style. The painting is look beautiful because it's the death sense that is not look too cruel and unpleasant. On the other hand the painting looks beautiful with calmness. There were many lies in David's paint Marat was depicted as idealistic, he was not actually a handsome man but in the painting he is. His skin supposed to be in bad condition according to his skin diseases but it was well painted with a nice color of skin instead. Moreover the message in letter that Marat holds in the painting was not the original message. David had twist many facts about Morat's dead in order to makes Morat look like a victim not a crucial dictator that kills many man life. David covered it with the beautifulness of the painting.

5. Describe your own aesthetic of beauty. (Remember to write using only your own words, i.e. don't copy from a friend.)

- Aesthetic of beauty can be seen or express both in psychicall and mentally way. It's the way to show how people appreciate the art of beauty. It can show the taste of people according to their judgments of sentiment. Sensory can be a good way to evaluate the value of aesthetic of beauty. It should be significant and unique that can be remembering easily.

For myself i think aesthetic of beauty is involved with my personality more than appearance.
