1. What choices was Hamlet pondering in his “To be or not to be?” soliloquy?

Ans. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer

The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,

Or to take arms against a sea of troubles

And by opposing end them.

It means whether he should believe what the ghost said and revenge for his father death by killing his uncle.

2. What challenge did he face in his life at that time? What would you have done in his situation?

Ans. His father was killed, and his mother gets married again with his uncle who steals his throne. Moreover, he met the ghost that claim it is his father and told him his uncle assassinate his father as well as ask him to revenge. If I were him, I would kill my uncle and take my mother and my throne back.

3. What did Hamlet decide to do? What things did he do (or not do) that eventually led to the tragic end of the play?

Ans. After testing by hiring the circus to review the scene that his uncle assassinated his father and noticing his reaction, He believed what the ghost said to him and decided to kill his uncle for vengeance, but he killed wrong person that led to the tragic end of the play.

4. What do his actions say of his personality? What kind of man was Hamlet?

Ans. Hamlet was judicious and gratitude person. He did not believe suddenly after the ghost said his uncle killed his father, and then he tested the ghost's words before concluding his uncle killed his father. This action shows him judicious. He killed his uncle for his vengeance, but had no attempt to kill his mother, though the ghost said his mother was conspirator. This action shows him gratitude.

5. Do you think Hamlet was overcome with insanity during the course of the play?

Ans. I think he was not overcome with insanity because he could control his emotion not to kill his uncle before he had substantial evidence and he could plan to test his uncle's purity.
