1. What choices was Hamlet pondering in his “To be or not to be” soliloquy?
-“To be or not to be” is what he ponder to himself whether he should kill Claudius or not, because he was not that his father spirit was true or not. So he tried to prove first that what the spirit said was true.
2. What challenge did he face in his life at that time?
What would you have done in his situation?
-His father died out of sudden and his mother married to his uncle right after. Then his girlfriend, Ophelia, was ordered by her father to break up with him.
-If I were Hamlet, I would first ask my mother about the reason that she married Claudius, and the action after this will be decided depend on her answer..
3. What did Hamlet decided to do? What things did he do (or not do) that eventually led to the tragic end of the play?
-First of all he decided to be insane to find the truth behind his father’s death. Once he was certain that Claudius killed his father, he was bravely determined to kill Claudius.
4. What do his actions say of his personality? What kind of man was Hamlet?
-He is a reasonable, calmly and thoughtful person because he does not believe in what the ghost said in the first time. He has to prove it and decided the action after that.
5. Do you think Hamlet was overcome with insanity during the course of the play?
-In the first he was just insane. However, when he was with his mother, he was the only one that saw the ghost. The result shows that he might have gone insane.
