

Question 1

a) Due to increasing in the temperature that can lead to greenhouse effect and rising in global warming. Which can cause negative impact to the world and country. Also set the limitation level of global warming temperature. Also Thailand might get some benefit and approval from the other countries COP26.

2) We can use the Mitigation and adaptation policy.

Futhermore policy such as carbon tax can be use to help to achieve carbon neutrality in Thailand.

Question 2

Agree, because the policy simply use to controll the total amount of enissions that minimize the cost of control so when marginal damage costs are equal to the quantity of enissions reduced for all source of firm is the point of this policy.