The Nature of Business

A business tries to earn a profit by providing products that satisfy people's needs. The outcomes of its efforts are products that have both tangible and intangible characteristics that provide satisfaction and benefits. When you purchase a product, you are buying the benefits and satisfaction you think the product will provide. A Subway sandwich, for example, may be purchased to satisfy hunger, while a Honda Accord may be purchased to satisfy the need for transportation and the desire to present a certain image.

Most people associate the word product with tangible goods—an automobile, smartphone, jeans, or some other tangible item. However, a product can also be a service, which occurs when people or machines provide or process something of value to customers. Dry cleaning, a checkup by a doctor, a movie or sports event—these are examples of services. An Uber ride satisfies the need for transportation and is therefore a service. A product can also be an idea. Accountants and attorneys, for example, provide ideas for solving problems.

The Goal of Business

The primary goal of all businesses is to earn a profit, the difference between what a business receives from customers and what it pays for it. In addition, a business has to pay for all expenses needed to produce and distribute a product that it sells for $10, the business earns a profit. A business can use their profits as they choose—within legal limits—because profit is the goal of a business. Earning profits contributes to society by creating resources, creating jobs, and paying taxes. Not all organizations are businesses, however. Nonprofit organizations, such as charities and social causes—do not have the fundamental purpose of earning profits and engage in fund-raising. They also utilize skills related to managing organizations through donations from employees.

To earn a profit, a person or organization needs management skills.

Yellow highlights identify the assigned learning concepts students need to focus on.

If students answer a question incorrectly and ask for guidance using “Concept Resources,” the system will temporarily turn the highlight associated with that concept blue to indicate where they went wrong. Once they move on, that highlight returns to yellow.

SmartBook 2.0 Reading Assignment

The screenshot displays the SmartBook 2.0 interface. At the top left is the McGraw Hill logo. A progress bar at the top shows '0 of 17 Concepts completed'. The main content area features a 'Multiple Choice Question' about a toy company's development. Below the question are five radio button options. A callout box shows the selected answer, 'balancing the needs of its stakeholders', marked as correct. At the bottom, there are buttons for 'High', 'Medium', and 'Low' confidence ratings, and a 'Reading' button. A footer contains copyright information and links for 'Privacy' and 'Terms of Use'.

In answering questions, you also need to rate your confidence level. You will receive instant response afterwards. You can always option “Concept Resources” to be taken to the sub-section heading where the answer can be found.

The progress bar at top breaks down assignment progress into three categories: concepts not started, concepts in progress, and concepts completed.

SmartBook 2.0 Reading Assignment

The screenshot shows the SmartBook 2.0 interface. On the left, there are options for 'Course materials' (Rent the book, Loose leaf option) and 'Read' (Povel, Business Foundations 12e). The main area displays 'Week 2' with 'Chap 1 - The Dynamics of Business and Economics'. A 'Video Case - Economic Systems' is listed with a 'See report' link. Below it, 'Chap 1 Pre-Class Reading' is marked as 'RECHARGE' and has a 'See report' link. A red callout box points to the 'See report' link with the text: 'See detailed report or recharge challenging items.' On the right, there are links for 'Assumption University - Intro to Business BBA1001 | BB...' and 'SB'.

See detailed report or recharge challenging items.

The detailed report shows 'Time on Task' with 'Assignment' at 32m and 'Recharge' at 00m. A legend indicates 'Questions 61%' and 'Resources 39%'. The 'Your Confidence Profile' section shows a table of correct and incorrect answers for High, Medium, and Low Confidence levels. The 'Most Challenging Concepts (2)' section includes a table with the following data:

Challenging Concepts	Accuracy
Contrast the needs of different stakeholders.	40%
Describe operations as a function of management.	60%

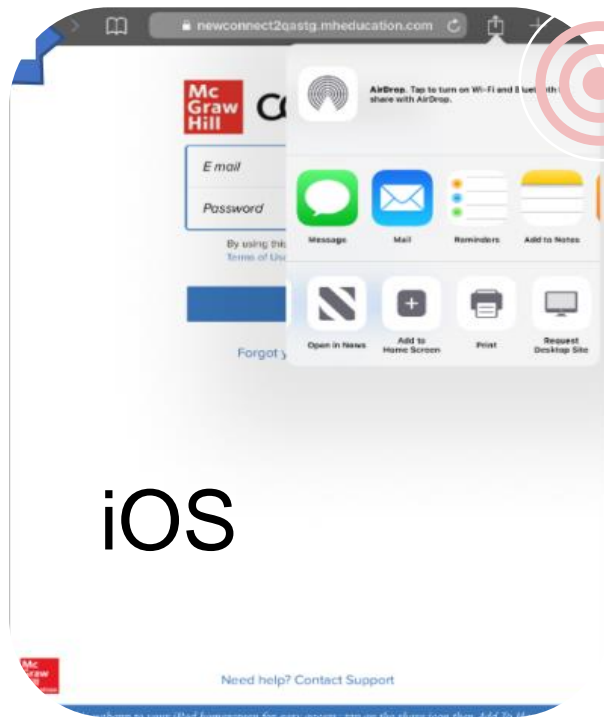

A 'Load More' button is located at the bottom left of the report.

This allows you to pinpoint areas where you might need to study or practice more.

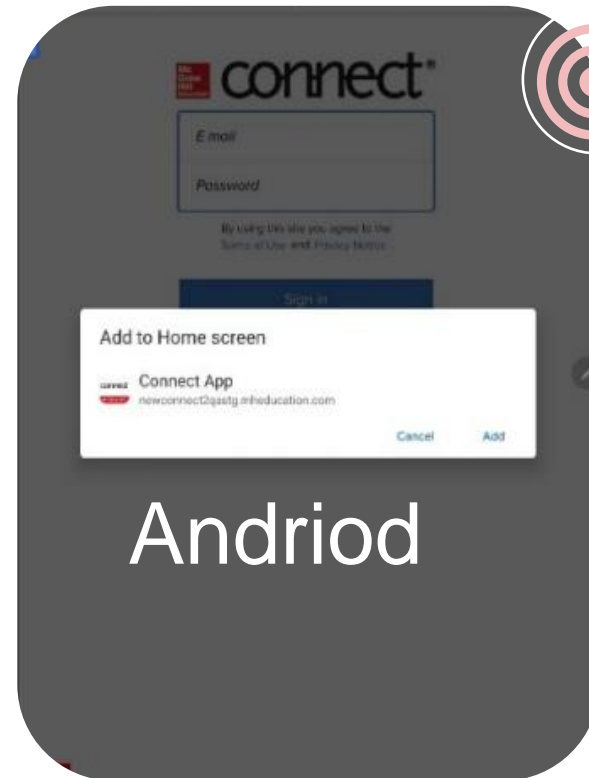

Access from Tablet

Connect Tablet App is available on iOS or Android tablet.

On a tablet browser, students will see a message at the bottom of the screen that gives you directions to add the app to home screen. When the app is added to home screen, students can access New Connect via the Connect app icon. It will not open Connect in the default browser but will “act” like an app.

Tap on the share icon then Add to Home Screen.

You will get a message on the tablet or browser to add the app to home screen.

Access from China

Tips to access CONNECT from China:

1. Do not register at the last minute. Before critical quiz/ exam, make sure you already use the same device and network to open assignments/ ebook/ Smartbook successfully.
 2. Always go to <http://connect.mheducation.com/troubleshootWeb/troubleshoot.html> to check system requirement first.
 3. Switch to a different browser and login again. QQ/ Firefox/ Chrome/ 163/ Baidu browser, try which one work best for you.
 4. Last, switch to a different network because particular network provider may have blocked CONNECT website based on their firewall settings.
 5. Contact Support if the problem still resists.
