ASEAN: Origin, evolution, and economy

The ASEAN Association is not the first international organization that has to be established in South East Asia region. Many international organizations that have occurred before ASEAN associations have many problems. As a result, it has to be closed in a short time. The initial reason was caused by both scrambling possession between the lands and the intervention of the great power countries.

All of the member countries that have established ASEAN associations have been colonized by western countries except Thailand. After the end of World War II, each member counties joined the process of claiming independence or decolonization process for themselves. Moreover, in the period before the five member countries of ASEAN associations came together to announce the ASEAN Declaration which is the document of the origin of ASEAN, Southeast Asia is the battleground of the Cold War and the center of conflict at the 2nd Indochina War before.

After the conflicts between countries that are a continuation of the colonial era and the battle within the region has to be ended. ASEAN can easily develop cooperation in various areas between member countries to take a far deeper step and expand the influence in the same time. Therefore, members are more closely until now, and can enter into "ASEAN Community" within less than 50 years.

The initial purpose of the establishment of ASEAN or Association of South East Asian Nation is to promote mutual understanding between countries in the region, maintaining peace and stability, creative political stability, social economic progress and cultural development, and well-being of people living on the basis of equality by making consideration on mutual benefit of each countries. At last, the statistic evidences can clearly show that ASEAN can significantly encourage the level of economy, increase the number of international trade and investment, expand the number of labors and population, and boost the well-being of human resources.

In my point of view, I am totally agree with the teacher that ASEAN in the importance factor for members which can higher the level of relationship between members to be more closer. Interestingly, I found the most significant part of the lecture which is ASEAN Economic Community (AEC). To understand more, AEC is the key of successful in ASEAN community, this project lead to the sharing of the production source and the market, and make the economic region to be high competitiveness with equal economic development which is the meaning of the complete global economy. All of these reasons can strongly confirm the effective of ASEAN Economic Community. At present, these partnerships have continually advanced to be a higher level.

9 - great summary

Essay 2, June 21 morning
Cambodia economy

The Cambodian economy has a growth rate of 2017, mainly driven by the garment industry and textile and tourism industry sectors and has benefited from the situation as the least developed countries that allowing Cambodia to receive financial assistance and receive special privileges tax on exports the domestic product to developed countries. Moreover, Cambodia has higher income from the expansion of the middle class population, resulting in higher demand for quality products.

The striking point in the class is the situation of the trade between Cambodia and Thailand. During the past 5 years, the sanction is in a high growth rate that has average at 15 percent per year ,and it likely to continually expand. The mutual goal of these countries is expected to be able to achieve the trade goals. Moreover, Thailand has signed the agreement about taxation between Thailand-Cambodia and supported for government agencies and private sectors of both countries to be able to raise funds on each countries.

The relationship between Thai and Cambodia is stronger than before, it come from the visiting of dynasty and important people from Thailand, that travel to increase the stability of dealing, and exchange the international ministrations to each others. Personally, I feel so proud of the activity that Thailand create for Cambodia with sincere relation.

The speaker also makes me consider about the effect of CLMV to Thailand. To elucidate, CLMV comprises with Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar, Vietnam, or ASEAN countries with economic tend to growth , having abundant mineral resources and the low rate labor cost. CLMV countries locate around Thailand in every region. Thus, it is very suitable for Thai entrepreneurs to invest or find the opportunities on business. The benefits that Thailand will receive from CLMV are likely to come from trade that come from the export of products that CLMV required to reduce tariffs. In addition, products that neighboring countries will have to cuts the tax are products that Thai entrepreneurs or Thai industrial sectors have potential production. It can lead to opportunity to expand domestic market of Thailand. However, Thailand may have to face competition from other countries in ASEAN that can benefit from lower taxes as well.
