Question 1

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

According to the assignment, which of the following statements about "face time" are true?

Select one or more:

- a. Face time is when the face of one of the group members is on the screen. ✓
- b. Half of the movie should be face time. ✓
Technically, the assignment says "at least" half, but "about" half is fine.
- c. Total movie time = substance + face time ✗
I don't know where students get this idea. Face time is when a student's face is on the screen. Period.
- d. It's OK to make silly faces during face time. ✗
No. The documentary should never be silly. Some humor is ok, but silliness is childish.

Check

Using face time wisely makes documentaries more interesting.

Question 2

Incorrect

Edit question

When is it ok to pretend in the movie?

Select one or more:

- a. Students should not pretend in the movie. You should just be yourselves, i.e. Thammasat university students making a documentary. ✓
- b. It's ok to pretend to be historical figures in the documentary. ✗
No. That's a very bad idea.
- c. It's ok if you do the documentary like it's a TV show. ✗
No. This is an example of a frame story. Frame stories are not usually the best use of time and tend to make documentaries silly.
- d. It's ok if Aj. Russell says it's ok. ✗
Aj. Russell is telling you right now that it's not ok. That's the rule. Of course, as the saying goes, there are exceptions to every rule, so you could take your chances and break the rule. If, in Aj. Russell's opinion (the only opinion that matters), the violation helps the movie rather than hurting it, then the violation won't lower the group's score for the project. ♦

The problem with pretending is that it makes student documentaries much too silly.

Question 3

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

Which of the following statements about submitting files to your teachers are true?

Select one or more:

- a. You should always check to see if you remembered to "attach" the file before sending the email. ✓
- b. Before giving the file to your teacher, you should rename the file so that the teacher knows exactly what it is and who made it. ✓
  - The group project assignment tells you exactly how you should name files in TU110.
- c. When using email, you should do your best to only send the file once. ✓
  - Proof read and double-check everything before turning it so that you don't have to send emails telling the teacher to ignore previous emails.
- d. Teachers like it when they have to open files to find out who sent the file to them. ✗
  - No. Your name and your student I.D. number (or your group's name) should be included in the file name.
- e. Teachers like it when their students send them lots of files with the same filename, such as "essay-final draft.docx". ✗
  - No. File names should generally include your name, i.d. number, what assignment they are related to, and maybe even your specific topic for the assignment.

Check

Remember, you should always name files in a way that uniquely identifies them so that your teacher knows exactly what the file is and who gave it to them. The group project assignment tells you how you should name files in TU110.

Question 4

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

Which of the following statements about the "group topics and member list" file are true.

Select one or more:

- a. Students have one week after receiving the assignment to complete and turn in the file. ✓
  - The current record is 48 hours.

b. The file should be appropriately named before sending it to the teacher. ✓
Such as "BE Group Member and Topic List 1-2014.docx" or "BBA Group Member and Topic List 1-2014.docx"

c. Unused rows should be deleted before sending it to the teacher. ✓ <http://office.microsoft.com/en-001/word-help/add-or-delete-a-table-column-or-row-HA102775343.aspx>

d. The class should work together to complete the file and then one (1) student should send one (1) copy of the completed file to the teacher. ✓

e. Each group should complete the file for themselves and send it in. ✗
No. The groups should work together to make one beautiful, perfectly complete file.

f. It's ok if some of the information is not included. ✗
No. All information possible should be included.

Edit question

Which of the following statements about interviews in the group documentary are true?

Select one or more:

a. Interviews are allowed, but they should be short and well-edited so that they don't waste time. ✓

b. The assignment says that total interview time in the movie should be no more than one (1) minute. ✓

c. Interviews count as "face time" and as "substance" of the movie. ✓ True. Substance and face time are not mutually exclusive.

d. Interviews are a good way to fill up the minutes in your movie. ✗
No. Long interviews are tedious and result in a poor score for the project.

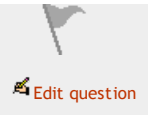

e. If interviews are in Thai, students should never dub over the interview with English translations. ✗
Actually, this is the one time that dubbing might be a good idea. Foreign language interviews may be dubbed over with English translations, while the original audio plays quietly in the background.

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Which of the following statements about letters of permission are true?

Select one or more:

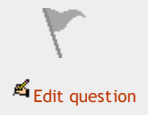

- a. If you are going to need a letter of permission, you should ask for it well ahead of time. ✓
- b. If you need a letter of permission, you should follow the instructions in Step 7 on page 2 of the group project assignment. ✓
- c. To find out if you need a letter of permission, you should first speak politely to the authorities at the location you wish to use. ✓
- d. Students should wait until the last minute to get letters of permission. ✗
- e. Students should inform the location's authorities that they have the right film there because they were authorized to do so by their Thammasat professor. ✗
- f. Students should wear uniforms and be on their best behavior whenever they are representing our university in the outside world. ✓

Question 7

Incorrect

It is OK to use video clips (from YouTube or elsewhere) in the student documentaries.

Select one:

- True ✗
- False

Check

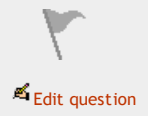

No. You may not include video clips from outside sources in your documentary.

Using video clips from outside sources within the documentaries is absolutely forbidden. The entire video should be your original work.

Question 8

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Whenever an interesting fact is used in the screenplay (and transcript), the source of the information should be provided in a footnote citation.

Select one:

- True
- False ✗

Check

Yes. In both the screenplay and final transcript, footnote citations should be used whenever necessary.

When in doubt, cite.

Question 9

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Students should put their very best effort into the practice movie.

Select one:

True X

False

Check

No. The purpose of the practice movie is to make you get started and to make you aware of what you need to learn to do for the real movie.

The practice movie does not need to be a work of art. You can just film the group members introducing themselves. But you should make the practice movie with the equipment you intend to use for the real movie so you learn how to use it. Remember to record dialog and make subtitles.

Question 10

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

The movie should begin with an introduction that lets the viewer know what's going on and makes them want to learn more about the subject.

Select one:

True

False X

Check

You should definitely start the movie with an introduction like this.

Student documentaries often begin too abruptly. Just because you know who you are, what you are doing, and what your movie is about, doesn't mean that the viewer knows. Have empathy for your audience.

Question 11

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

YouTube doesn't mind if you put popular music in your videos.

Select one:

True X

False

Check

No. YouTube really doesn't like it when you do this.

YouTube will block your video if it recognizes copyrighted music in it.

Question 12

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Edit question

If the sound quality in the movie is not good, students should dub over it.

Select one:

True X

False

Check

No. If the sound quality is not good, students should learn how to record better sound and then do the scene again.

Good sound quality is a hallmark of high scoring projects.
