Score allocation and grading policy	Grading remains the same as described in the course outline: Class Participation 10 % Essay 10 % Midterm Exam 20 % Group Project 30 % Final Exam 30 %
Final examination date	Monday, Dec 19, 2011 (1400-1700)
Topics covered in final exam and final exam policy (if any)	The parameters of the final exam remain as described in the course outline. The format of the final exam will be the same as the midterm exam: 50% short-essay questions and 50% essay questions. The final exam will cover all of the class subject matter subsequent to what was covered in the midterm exam. Due to the limited amount of time which students will have to assimilate and contemplate the course subject matter, the final exam questions will be of a more objective, rather than subjective, nature. Therefore, it will behoove you to begin studying the lecture notes and reading assignments as early as possible.
Quizzes/Assignments after class resumed (if any)	The main assignment due after classes resume is the group project. Other than the new due date of Dec. 2, all assignment parameters remain the same. If circumstances dictate a modification of this policy, students will be notified in a timely manner by moodle and email. There will be additional class participation activities due after classes resume, but modifications will be made so that no students are disadvantaged by the flooding.
Other information for exchange students (if any)	If an exchange student is not able to take the final exam as scheduled, he or she may be allowed to earn the final exam credit with a take-home final exam. If you are an exchange student and would like to exercise this option, please contact the instructor.
