

1) From the UNDP (2019) study on Tolerance but not inclusion, what is your viewpoint on this issue? Discuss your view by including the forecasting impact on the economic sector and what policies government should implement to solve any challenges.

In my perspective, I agree with this paper that LGBT persons are becoming more accepted in society. With favorable attitudes, people are more concerned about gender equality. The government is more supportive of the LGBT community. However, I remain aware of discrimination and harassment of LGBT persons by some groups of people.

LGBT persons will have a greater impact on the economic sector in the future because I believe they will boost individual well-being by increasing individuals' capabilities to be and do what they value.

As a result, the government should not impose restrictions on LGBT education. Some occupations now continue to ban this group. As a result, if the government invests more in education and training, the economy might potentially boost the country's productivity.