

Comments
Influential Factors in Becoming An Esport Athlete

Good to know that people who are interested in E-sport and want to become athletes are so different from the common players in many aspects. Also, surprisingly, the players who love to play games have negative views towards the game itself. Maybe you can make a suggestion on how Thailand government can support Thai E-sport players to become athlete to encourage positive views towards games and also how this support will enhance society and economic growth.