Hamlet worksheet

1. Hamlet is facing a dilemma, whether or not to kill himself from the effect of recent event which has almost make him mad. He is talking about the pain and trouble he must face while living and the uncertainty that he might face against death.
2. He is very depressed and is turning mad. He doubts that his father death is no accident, but a murder; and that his uncle is the murderer. While his mother enjoys new marriage so quickly, after Hamlet's father passed away recently. It is a very tough situation to be on, I would try to prove whether the uncle is guilty or not, if so there might be another accident somewhat like the one before.
3. Hamlet hired a jester to imitate what King Claudius done to Hamlet's father. His mother invited Hamlet into her room and he kill Polonius which he thought is the king. They send Hamlet away. Ophelia then turns mad since Hamlet whom she loves killed her father. Laertes came back from France mad, trying to get revenge for his father. He found out that Hamlet is the cause of both Ophelia madness and the death of his father. Laertes conspired with King Claudius to kill Hamlet.
4. Hamlet has an aggressive personality; he does things according to his emotion. When he kills Polonius that he assumes to be the king or when he rushes to Ophelia's death body and confess his love.
5. Yes, he had too much from the grief from both the loss of his father and the wedding of his mother. Which eventually drive him mad; he was able to see spirit which drives him to revenge the death of his father. He did so another spirit when he killed Polonius in his mother room
