

Modern art readings homework

1. The form is not the most important thing. It just the outer that we cannot judge whether or not good enough. The real significant is content which the heart of that thing is. It depends on personal style and cannot be judged what is right or wrong.
2. The top of triangle is the picture plane which is basically used in every character. The left is reality which is importantly used in art works. The right one is language which is used in written literature. When they are mixed, it will get several characters in comics.
3. In my opinion it is a good art. Beauty does not depend on what the thing in this painting is or similar to reality. It is an abstract art. The outer is not important rather than meaning in it. It cannot be say what this is but I think painter mean disorder and uniqueness.
