

In my view points, Thailand has generally positive sentiments about LGBT persons and strong support for inclusive laws and policies, but there are still ongoing reports of stigma and discrimination, violence, and exclusion. Due to Thailand has variety of LGBT, I think the government ought to put rules in place to protect LGBT people from businesses who want to hire them but exclude them from doing so.