Hamlet

1. Hamlet is facing a great effect on his father death and his mother remarriage, which took in an effect of his pain and trouble.

2. Hamlet, an innocence young man, has to face many sorrowful problems in his life.

Hamlet's uncle killed his only father which set the fire to his mind and furthermore crowned himself as a king over his father. Also furthermore, his mother remarried his uncle, which set him with great depression. If I was in the situation I would fight for the righteousness and has the criminal be executed.

3. Hamlet eventually decided to kill his uncle and unfortunately missed the shot and hurt the wrong one. This led to a sorrowful ending and loss in many in the end.

4. I would say that Hamlet has a hot tempered personality, and cannot control his own state of mind which has led to a loss to everyone.

5. Hamlet did eventually overcome his insanity, because he loses the control of his mind and soul. His grief has arisen from his father death and his mother wedding.
