

YOUR LOGO

WELCOME!

EE463 GLOBALIZATION AND INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Course Description

Globalization in the Post-World War II era

- Development of national economies
- International relationships, interdependencies
- Intensification of globalization and international development

Create both opportunities and challenges; different countries respond differently to these opportunities and challenges.

Some countries have competitive and comparative advantages; government policies have significant impacts on the economic outcome

Objectives

To understand:

- the process of economic development in various countries
- the contribution of key development sectors
- the roles of government, the private sector and other stakeholders
- how globalization affects and is affected by economic development

Sections Covered in EE463

Section 1: Theoretical background

- economic theories, links between globalization and economic development
- comparison of economic development trends across low-, middle- and high-income countries
- role of the state and market in economic development and international organizations
- demographic trends, poverty and inequality

Sections Covered in EE463

Section 2: Sector and thematic issues

- key development sectors and issues: agriculture; education and health; urban and rural development; and international trade and capital flows
- cross-cutting areas such as environment, climate change, and gender
- International capital flows: trade, foreign aid and direct investments
- roles of international development organizations

Sections Covered in EE463

Section 3: Role of international organizations

- International capital flows
- Foreign aid and foreign investments
- Bilateral and multilateral organizations

Sections Covered in EE463

Section 4: Group and individual work

- Group formation to discuss development issues learned in class
- Individual comprehension
- Application of materials learned in issue paper
- Group presentation towards the end of the course

Expected Learning Outcomes

An understanding of:

- how and why countries grow and develop
- how globalization and development are linked and impact each other
- the role of key development sectors, and government policies to address the issues that arise
- the role of international aid organizations, financing institutions and private capital in economic development

Class Time and Logistics

- Class Day: Tue & Thu, 12:30-14:00
- Teaching materials: BE Moodle
- Meeting Platform: On-site

- Instructor: Januar Hakim, PhD, MURP
- E-mail: januar_be@econ.tu.ac.th
- To facilitate quick responses to e-mails, all correspondence should include the class section (Subject: EE463)

- Main text: Perkins, D., S. Radelet, D. Lindauer, & S. Block. 2013. Economics of Development, 7th ed. W.W. Norton & Co.: NY.

Class Policy and Expectations

- Based on Thammasat University Announcements: classes will be on-site unless indicated otherwise
- Students are expected to read ahead and be prepared – this includes at least 70% attendance
- Covid-19 health protocols will be strictly followed
- For any further clarifications and/or queries, students may either e-mail or set up an appointment with the lecturer

Grading Criteria

- Final grade: based on points accumulated: participation; group presentation; issue paper relating to coursework; and midterm and final exams.
- Details of each requirement will be discussed during class and announced in BE Moodle
- Late submission of assignments/exam: up to 30 minutes a penalty of 10%, up to 60 minutes a penalty of 25%.

Grading: Weights for Each Output

Weights of each item:

- Participation 15%
- Group presentation 15%
- Issue paper 15%
- Midterm exam 25%
- Final exam 30%

Grade Conversion

Numerical grades will be converted to letter grades as follows:

- >85–100
- >80–85
- >70–80
- >65–70
- >60–65
- >55–60
- >45–55
- 45 and below

A
B+
B
C+
C
D+
D
F

Thank You